Faith: I was 15 when stopped going to high school.

It was a month before my 16th birthday, that I found out that I was pregnant.

That was kind of tough.

So I always found some excuse to not go.

The moment where everything changed for me was when my grandfather was diagnosed with cancer.

I had to do something to make him proud of me.

I found the program and they helped me 100 percent through this process.

March the 5th, I got my actual diploma.

I was most happy to show my grandfather.

No more excuses.
